

D. Bowman

D. Bowman

D. Bowman

D. Bowman

D. Bowman

The Beamish Conservatory is located in the College of Agriculture atrium at the University of Saskatchewan. Features include a water feature, a demonstration area, a wide variety of tropical plants, and commemorative plaques. Particular attention was given to student and public education and information on the horticultural value of conservatory specimens.

