

Centennial Drive is both a highway service road and the commercial "main street" for the town of Martinsville. The dual role of this street provided our office with unique development opportunities and challenges which resulted in a streetscape master plan which sought to control vehicle circulation and business signage while enhancing the pedestrian environment. Emphasis was placed on using local materials and capabilities in order to establish a suitable character and image that the street would reflect on the town.

